BOOTS TO SUITS

Our Employee Resource Group focused on creating a community for service members and expanding our networks to help more veterans find meaningful employment, Pride In Service helps transitioning and recently transitioned service members with networking, training, and support during and after their search for employment.

How it Works

Pride in Service supports veterans in three stages of their post-military career:

Stage I: Career Transition & Job Acquisition

Discovery

Identifying experience

Training

Vocational & soft-skills training

Targeting

Pairing with open jobs/companies

Preparation

Resume polishing and interview prep

Placement

Interviewing & getting hired

Stage II: Career Building

Mentorship

Prepare veterans to surpass expectations and succeed in their new workplace environments

Adjustment

Help veterans advance their career and find what roles, jobs, and industries best suit their skills

Stage III: Community

Networking

Build a robust community across Pride In Service's network of veterans that can foster social connections and offer access to continuing education, training opportunities, new jobs/clients, and more
